DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of the invention of Group I in the reply filed on June 28, 2004 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Drawings

2. The drawings were received on June 28, 2004. These drawings are approved.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 1, 5, 6, 8, 9, 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese patent to Suzuki et al. Note paragraph [0017] of the translation of Suzuki et al. and the helmet shell defined by "organic fiber" with inner and outer surfaces reinforced with a bonded net or mesh of long length fibers (unidirectional fiber sheets) detailed in paragraphs [0012] and [0013]. Suzuki et al. teaches that it is old and well known to form the shell of polycarbonate (see paragraph [0002]) and to provide a shock absorbing inner helmet 2,3 and attachment means 4 in the helmet system (see paragraph [0002]). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to form the shell of polycarbonate and to provide the system with an inner helmet and attachment means as claimed in view of such prior art teaching of Suzuki et al. to achieve the advantage of defining a racing sport helmet.

With respect to claim 5 Suzuki et al. discloses a length of 5cm for the prior art. It would have been obvious to maintain the a length of at least 5cm in the invention of Suzuki et al. since one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention would readily have recognized the goal of Suzuki et al. of employing long length fibers greater than that of the prior art. With respect to claim 6 note the teaching of the use of Styrofoam by Suzuki et al. (see paragraph [0002]). With respect to claim 8 note the strap 4 as taught by Suzuki et al. With respect to claim 11 note the teaching of the use of polycarbonate in Suzuki et al. (see paragraph [0002]). With respect to claim 12 note such teaching in paragraph [0009] of the translation. With respect to claim 9 product-by-process claim 9 even though reciting features in terms of how they are made, e.g. injection molding and molding, is still a product claim, and it is the patentability of the product, not the process steps, which must be determined. Suzuki et al. teach the shell of “organic fiber” regardless of how it is formed and teach the mesh or net of the helmet system regardless of how formed with the shell. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to form the shell of polycarbonate an “organic fiber” in view of such prior art teaching of Suzuki et al. (see paragraph [0002]) to achieve the expedience of using a readily available helmet material known for withstanding an impact thereto.

2. Claims 3 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese patent to Suzuki et al. in view of Halstead et al. Suzuki et al. do not teach either the helmet shell thickness or inner helmet thickness as claimed. Halstead et al. teach old a shell thickness in the range of 1/16 to 1/4 inch (see column 1, line 67) and an inner helmet thickness in the range of 0.5 to 1 inch (see column 4, lines 8-24). It would have been obvious to provide the shell and inner helmet of Suzuki et al. with the respective thickness of the shell and inner helmet of Halstead et al. since one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention would readily have recognized such thickness as adequate starting points for producing a functional helmet system.

3. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese patent to Suzuki et al. in view of Schiebl et al. Suzuki et al. do not teach forming the net or mesh of para-aramid fibers as claimed. Schiebl et al. teach old the use of such fibers (KEVLAR), see column 3, lines 21-40. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the system of Suzuki et al. such that the net or mesh or unidirectional fiber sheet is formed of KEVLAR in the manner of Schiebl et al. to achieve the advantage of lightweight and strength.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed June 28, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Contrary to applicant's remarks the prior art references of record and specifically the Japanese patent to Suzuki et al. do teach the invention as now claimed. Applicant's additional remarks are deemed moot in view of the new grounds of rejection. The rejection of claims 1, 3-9, 11 and 12, ably set forth above, is deemed proper in all respects.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

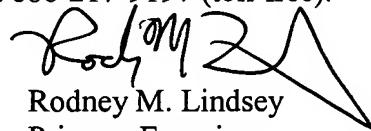

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
